SHOWER FOR MRS, SADIE DEBOW.

The Mt. Zion Missionary Society gave miscellaneous shower at the home of Mrs. Kate Glenn last Friday afternoon in honor of Mrs. Sudie DeBow, whose home was burned a few weeks ago, and which was deeply regretted by every one, this being one of the old landmarks of Mt. Zion, and many of the people that had enjoyed its cordial program will be rendered. All members hospitality, and whose most pleasant are urged to be present and bring a new memories of other days are associated member. with Mrs. DeBow's "big dinners" and the parties that young people always enjoyed so much.

The shower was kept a secret from Mrs. DeBow, it having been arranged by the committee to have her to stop in that afternoon as she was passing. As she neared the house and saw a yard full of cars and buggies, she kept saying, "what on earth can the occasion be?" In a short while after her arrival the house was called to order and Mrs. Evans, the pastor's wife, in a few well chosen words, spoke of the beauty of friendship with its love and sympathy, and then spoke of the present occasion being to show, in our feeble way, our love and apreciation of one who had been so useful and faithful and who was so worthy of our love and honor. Then taking Mrs. DeBow by the hand she led the way to the dining room where the many beautiful and useful presents were and not until then did Mrs. Dellow grasp he meaning of the occasion. For several moments she stood speechless from the shock and emotion and then in broken words tried to express her gratitude. There was a large number present;

Avoid Trees During Storm. It is generally conceded that to seek refuge under a tree during a thunder storm is more dangerous than to stay out in the open. Some trees are more often struck than others, and one scientist describes the sycamore tree as the most susceptible of all. But the man who considers himself safe under an oak, because there is a sycamore a few yards away, is putting a sublime faith in statistics. City dwellers are safer than country folk. Milady May Select Black, Brown or Green and Be in Keeping With Latest Styles.

New hats for autumn are made of felt in black, brown or dark green, although bright green is worn also. The cloche is again a favorite, very broad of brim and rounded of crown. The felt brim is bound with ribbon and a twist of ribbon with perhaps a small bow enriches the base of the crown. Smart is a Maria Guy shape of black velvet with the under side of the brim fined with cyclamen selvet, a fold of cyclamen velvet twisted about the base of the crown. The new shapes are large rather than small-the broad, slightly drooping brims shading the face thoroughly. -Good Housekeeping.

VIOLENCE AND ACCIDENTS LEAD IN KY, MORTALITY

More persons came to their death in 1921 in Kentucky by violence and in accidents than were carried off by any diseases except pneumonia and tuberculosis, it is shown by figures made public by the Bureau of Vital Statistics of the State Board of Health. Violent and accidental deaths were 1,799, according to the figures, while deaths from tuberculosis were 3,135, and pneumonia was responsible for 2,031. Total deaths from accidental causes were 1,424, the largest single item, according to J. F. Blackerby, director of the bureau, being burns of various kinds, which were responsible for 196 deaths. Railroad accidents occasioned Hickman Courier, published in the city being responsible for 140 deaths, and then in order come mine and quarry accidents, 138 deaths; automobile accidents 93 deaths, and accidental poisonings, 56 deaths.

Of the 375 deaths by violence, 173 were suicides and 202 homicides. In connection with these, Mr. Blackerby pointed out, referring to the need of more stringent legislation against the carrying of firearms, that over half of the suicides were by means of some kind of firearms, and that in the case of cent of the murders.

BLACK COLOR IS HEREDITARY

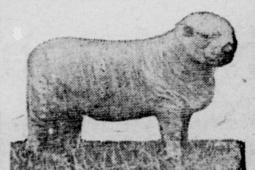

Feeding and Management of Sheep Have Nothing to Do With Appearance of Black Lambs.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

The appearance of black lambs in a flock made up entirely of white sheep has been for ages, and is still, a cause for wonder and the basis of superstitions. But the study of the laws of breeding and heredity has explained the reasons for the sporadic appearance of these off-color specimens. In a letter to a farmer who reported 25 black lambs from a flock of 175 purebred Shropshire ewes, all white, and who considered certain feeds the cause, the United States Department of Agriculture gives a clear statement of the principles in-

Feeding and management of sheep, says Dr. Sewall Wright, specialist in animal genetics, have nothing to do with the appearance of black lambs. The black color is hereditary even though it may be transmitted by ordinary white sheep. The black color in such a case is what is called a recessive character. White sheep which transmit this character at all transmit black in 50 per cent of their reproductive cells (ova in the case of ewes and spermatozoa in the case of rams) and white in the remaining 50 per cent. Thus, such white sheep mated with blacks (which can only transmit black) produce 50 per cent black lambs and 50 per cent white. All of these white lambs can transmit black

White sheep which transmit only white, mated with blacks; produce only white lambs, but all of these lambs can transmit black. When both ewe and ram are white, but both transmit black, about 25 per cent of the lambs are black, 50 per cent are white, which transmit black, while the remaining 25 per cent are true-breeding whites. In this case it is an even chance that a given ovum will transmit black and an even chance that it will be fertilized by a male cell which transmits black, making one chance in four that both transmit black, which is necessary for the production of a black lamb.

With 25 black lambs appearing in the flock, it is indicated that about 100 of the 175 ewes transmit black, assuming that all of the rams used transmit it. If not all the rams ewes transmit it.

The lower part of the body is, unfortunately, missing, as well as portions of the arms, but the carving of the face is quite clear, though of primitive workmanship. Authorities at the British museum are vague as to its origin, but are of the opinion that it is a relic of post-medieval times. The soil in which the image was discovered is of London clay, and is on the site of a pond which not many years ago was drained for housing purposes.

Evidence that the economic pani which began with Republican control noon when Sam Wright and Miss Ophia of the national government in 1921 is continuing to blight business and industry is to be found in figures covering the collection of tax receipts for July. The decrease in the collections during July this year was $46,456,438 compar### tual depression in foreign and domestic pect of the rise in prices and the disturbance of conditions threatened by the Fordney-McCumber profiteers' tariff bill. For example, there was a decline of $9,848,000 in the receipts from income and profit taxes in July this year compared with July, 1921. Keeping in mind the same basis of comparison, the decrease in the other collections were: Estate taxes, $10,275,000 and

Even more significant is the steady and startling diminution of our foreign trade under the Republican administration. Our foreign trade in the fiscal year ended June 30, 1922, totaled $6,378,000,-000, of which $3,770,000,000 represented exports. These figures show a decrease f 83,792,000,000 compared with the fisal year of 1921, when our foreign trade vas valued at $10,000,000,000, and $6,-

START EGGPLANT IN WARM, SUNNY PLACE

Rich Soil and Good Cultivation Is Necessary.

Occasional Applications of Very Weak Liquid Manure Is Beneficial-Little Flea Beetle la Most Troublesome.

Eggplant, so called because the great fruits are about the size and shape of an ostrich egg, is closely related to the tomato and pepper and requires very much the same treatment as do peppers, say garden specialists of the United States Department of Agriculture. The eggplant is very easily injured by cold and the plants must be started indoors throughout the greater part of the country. Start the seed in the house by sowing in a small box filled with good soil. The small plants should transplanted to pots or to a shallow box or tray filled with soil and kept in a warm, sunny place until the weather is quite warm. Eggplant requires a rich soil and good cultivation. Occasional applications of very weak liquid manure also benefit the plants

Eggplant is attacked by several kinds of insects, the most troubleome of these being the little flea beetle which works upon the leaves, filling them full of small round holes. As a remedy, dust the plants thoroughly with air-slaked lime or very fruits of the eggplant as soon as they attain good size the plants can be kept fruiting until killed by frost. Black beauty and improved large purple are among the leading varieties.

"I asked mother to postpone her visit for a while," his wife went on.

Henry did so. His wife saw, too. What she saw was the tired man jump from his chair, kick off his slippers, put on his shoes and skip out into the murky street.

And when, five minutes later, Henry returned with the tale that he had just been to see how the thermometer outside the postoffice stood, she smiled.

JAMES AT LEAST WAS FRANK

Explanation, However, Must Have Been Cold Comfort for Young American Lady.

"The butler in a Scotch family." says an American of that extraction, "occupies a privileged and unique posttion. He sometimes assumes a freedom of speech that seems to American ears to border on impertinence; but to those who know him has frank speech is only one of the many evidences of his interest in the family welfare.

"A young American woman was the guest at a house where a butler of that sort reigns. She submitted to his patronage with much amusement; but one day there were unexpected and important guests for dinner, and a little while before the meal was served the butler waylaid the young American in the hall.

"'I'm fearin' there'll no be quite enough soup," he whispered, 'so when it's offered, ye maun decline it, lass.' "'Decline soup, James?" she said, laughing, "why, that would not be polite."

"'Well not, precisely,' said James, with a benignant smile, but they'll a' make excuse for ye, thinkin' ye ken nae better."-Philadelphia Ledger.

SHOOTING SCRAPE AT LEDFORD

Boyd McClain Seriously Wounds Otis Newton Yesterday Morning.

As the result of a shooting scrape yesterday morning at Ledford, two men are in the Hickman jail, one perhaps mortally wounded and the other incarcerated as the perpetrator of the deed. It seems that Otis Newton, 26, and his wife, Beuton Newton, 18, have been living apart for a few days, and she says by a mutual agreement. Yesterday morning, according to reports, Newton heard that his wife was at Ledford, boarded the morning C., M. & G. train and went to that place, reaching there about 8:45. On alighting from the train he found his wife waiting for it, she intended to go to Ridgely she says. Newton inquired where she was going and she asserts she told him, and that Newton replied, " No, you are going back to Hickman, or I will kill McClain was standing by and on hearing Newton's threat ,spoke up, re-marking, "I wouldn't do that way, saying I would kill people." This brought from Newton the umbrageous retort that if he (McClain) didn't shut up he would shoot him. McClain then said, 'No, I am going now," and started away. Shortly after Newton begun firing at McClain, shooting five time in succession, but all the shots went wild.

McClain proceeded to his home, got a shotgun and came back. It is reported that on returning he said to Newton, "You shot at the wrong man this time, you wanted to kill me and nearly got me, and now I am going to kill you." At that he opened fire, shooting Newon in the hip, the charge of shot ranging upward into his side . At the time of the shooting Newton was standing on a trestle, where he fell. McClain walked out to him and took his gun away from him and helped him apand off the trestle.

Mrs. Newton does not seem unduly oncerned over what has barely escaped being a bloody tragedy. She is but 18 years old and says she and Newton have been married for over two years. The wounded man passed a restful night and it is thought he has a good chance of recovery. Sheriff West and Deputy John Wright made the arrests.

PREVENT ANIMAL DISEASES

By Taking Proper Precautionary Measures Many Ailments Could Be Thwarted.

Many of the diseases suffered by live stock on the farm could be prevented by proper precautionary measures, according to Dr. Robert Graham of the University of Illinois. Nearly all diseases to which animals succumb are preventable, he declares, and the surest way to keep your animals healthy is to adopt such health measures as will prevent them from getting sick.

The continuous use of old feed lots year after year without regard to rotation is one way to spread disease. Each class of live stock has its own peculiar ailments, which may be

The three club members of Fulton County who made the highest averages in the judging contest at the Fulton largely eliminated by the rotation of County Fair are Harold Choate, Louis Hornsby and George Helm. They left Tuesday evening for the State Fair accompanied by the County Agent. These boys are being sent by the Merchants Bank at Hickman, and Hickman Bank & Trust Company. All their evpenses are defrayed there and back.

These boys will act as a judging team representing Fulton County and in compeetition with judging teams from 50 or 60 counties in the state of Kentucky. They are expected to win some liberal prizes in their judging work. They ave had several days of intensive training using various herds and flocks over horses that are working is quite Fulton County, in preparation for the

DRY BRAN GOOD FOR HORSES

Better for Animals Easily Purged Than Warm Mash-Easy en Digestive Apparatus.

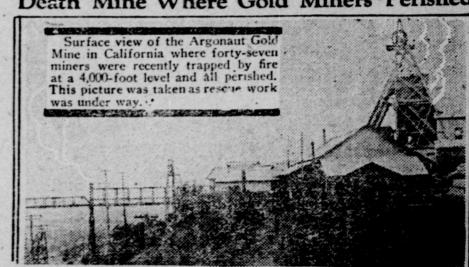

In cases of horses that are easily purged, it is better to give dry bran than a warm mash, and good clean bran may, with benefit, always form a portion of the dry food of all sorts of young horses, as the mineral constituents will be available as boneforming material. In most cases of illness a bran mash may with safety and benefit be given, as it does not overtax the digestive apparatus, but when there is evident irritability of the bowels, as in diarrhea, etc., it is better to give bran in a dry state than in the form of a mash.

A warm bran mash is, however, of great service to horses that are working hard and receiving a large amount of grain. It should be given on the Saturday night, or any other time lowing day, as it has a decidedly laxa- A good crowd was present in the day, form of a mash it is a laxative. USE GOATS FOR PACKING CONTENTS OF SILO

Messrs. Jim and Harold Moran, the ride awake bankers, farmers, traphooters, etc., filled their huge silo, loated at the Moran place in Dresden, last week, and an out of the ordinary method was used for packing the ensilage-that of using some fifteen or more goats as the tampers.

The goats were started at the bottom and, of course, ascended as the contents did, and when they were at the top they were tied and lowered from the structure. This was an unusual thing to ome people, as some may wonder how they would get the goats down when the silo was filled. The goats remained in there until the work of filling was finished, some three or four days, coming out fat and in good shape.-Dresden Enterprise.
